You Are Part of Our Team!

On January 20, Team Georgia Marketplace opened for business! Team Georgia Marketplace our new eProcurement system is part of a transition in State of Georgia procurement. We are now providing electronic procurement services for three State of Georgia agencies and over the next few years, agencies all over the state will join Team Georgia Marketplace as they are given the opportunity.

Thanks to your participation, state entities now have a pool of suppliers to send electronic invitations for sourcing events. In the last few weeks, sourcing event invitations have been sent to over 500 bidders and suppliers for 10 events deployed through Team Georgia Marketplace. You can find these events and more on the Georgia Procurement Registry. Anyone can view events on the Georgia Procurement Registry, but in order to bid, a company must register in Team Georgia Marketplace. To assure that your company is registered, you may review the list in the newsletter link Team Georgia Marketplace Registered Companies.

Buyers across the State of Georgia who are using eQuote or other procurement systems also create sourcing events for goods and services which invite the suppliers who have registered in Team Georgia Marketplace. All registered suppliers who select the NIGP code which correlates to goods or services in a sourcing event will be sent an electronic invitation to bid on events created by entities in the State of Georgia. Events are posted in the Georgia Procurement Registry or eQuote, depending upon the system that the entity is using.

In order to support you in the bidding process, we will emphasize Responding to a Bid in our future Supplier Seminars. We are also scheduling Webinars to teach people how to respond to a bid in Team Georgia Marketplace. A webinar is a live, online training event where participants connect by phone to audio and view a presentation on their own computer. The instructor is able to answer questions. Below are scheduled supplier events.
